

Triple P and cultural diversity

Nikki Walden, ACROSS Social Services, Palmerston North, New Zealand

Burcu Arkan, Uludag University School of Health , Bursa, Turkey

Margaret Weston, Triple P International

- Who are we?
- How do we understand our own cultural identity?
- Where do we get our cultural knowledge from?
- Where is Triple P being delivered?
- What makes this possible?
- The story from the Manawatu (NZ)
- The story from Turkey
- Stories and comments from the rest of the world?

- Building a point of connection
- Let's beware of making assumptions
- When we do so, let's hold them lightly
- Let's listen to families
- If in doubt, ask; if not in doubt, ask; ask if it's okay to ask
- Watch and listen
- Let's tailor our delivery to the needs of the family
- The person who knows best is right in front of us
